About Me: I am going on my third year teaching Special Education at the Junior High. We have three kids. It was my dream and goal to be a teacher in college but my career path went a different direction. When I met my wife I saw the passion she had for teaching and here I am now reaching my dream of being a teacher. I have a Bachelor of Business Administration from LaGrange College. I am finishing up my Masters in Special Education this semester from Liberty University. I am helping coach baseball and football this year. Looking forward to seeing my students succeed this school year.
